

How We Can Help

We are passionate about designing engaging learning experiences for your audience, and supporting you as a facilitator and coordinators.

If you or your organization are moving training/workshops online, we can help. Regier Educational Services provide custom options to focus on the your specific needs and focus.

As a boutique business, we can offer fair prices and premium value.

The learner's journey begins with the communications you provide your participants, before your event. Our packages include checklists, templates and tip sheets to support the whole event planning and implementation process. Communication is learning.

How do people feel when they first log-into your meeting, training or course? Are they engaged throughout, so they can apply what they have learned? Are you feeling connected to your participants online?

We can help you from start to finish, according to your context needs. There are many points along the learner journey, which we can help you understand, improve, and consider. Design and facilitate engaging online experiences turning an audience into participants.

Sincerely,

Patricia Regier

TESTIMONIALS

“Patricia is amazing to work with. She has an incredible knowledge base and the people skills to work with others. If you need someone with tech knowledge on Zoom (online learning experiences/events) who also knows about how to make your ideas come to life, then she is the one to consult. She receives the highest recommendation I can give. You will not regret using the many services that she provides”
Dr. Diana Chavez Ketterman

(Online Production Partner)

Facebook Post: “Special thanks to Patricia Regier. I brought Patricia in to help me with the technology. She went over and above to help me be my best. It was such a relief to have her back up.” Laurie Flasko
